NUMBER 16.

RESUME

of the Wolfe County Sunday School Union Convention.

The third annual convention of the Wolfe county Sunday school union met in Elkins chapel on Saturday, July 3. The convention was opened by singing "Who is on the Lord's side," followed by prayer by Rev. L. E. Mann.

The welcome was delivered by Miss Elkins, and responded to by Sam H. Hurst, of Campton.

President Swango then delivered his annual address. He told how 1,547 Sunday schools were organized and 72,000 children taught of Jesus by one man who was led to Christ by his little girl who had joined a missionary Sunday school. He gave the needs of a Sunday school convention as follows:

1. To break down prejudice and unite the people in the work of the Master.
2. To inspire us to more and better work for Christ.
3. To remove timidity from our young people and make them bolder in the work.

4. It aims at christianizing the homes and building up the cause of Christ generally.

5. It aids the work of churches and Sunday schools.

6. It means to promote the more general study of the bible, bring out methods of Sunday school work, how best teach children the bible, and bring the world to the light of salvation.

After singing "The Resurrection," the subject "Things a superintendent should know" was taken up by A. F. Byrd. "Above all things," he said, "a superintendent should know something of the Master he serves, should know the Lord," and that the object of the Sunday school was to prepare boys and girls for usefulness in this life and fit them for the life beyond the grave. The superintendents should do a work that would last throughout eternity. He should not only know something of sacred and ancient history, but should be able to teach the geography, manners and customs, and times of occurrences of these bible lessons. He should be punctual in all of his work.

Rev. Henry Taylor then spoke on the subject of "Sunday school work in the preacher's training." He dwelt upon the duty and responsibility of preachers, and said they should be consecrated, and careful and accurate in their rendering of the holy scriptures. Preach the gospel in fact and in full, and let his example be godly.

The choir here sang "Come unto Me." "The bible in the Sunday school" was ably handled by Rev. L. E. Mann. He made a strong appeal on behalf of the teachings of the holy word. The bible is God's love-letter to the world and should be taught above all else in Sunday schools. The lesson leaves, helps, etc., are to assist in preparing the lessons, but the bible should be in the hands of superintendents, teachers and pupils. Strive to impress that the bible is not simply for a parlor table ornament, to look at and admire, but to study. Teachers should try and place one in the hands of each member of their class, and teach it in a way that will interest them and inspire them with love for it.

The president then announced a committee of twelve on nominations. Also a committee on resolutions, viz: Joseph P. Rose, A. F. Byrd, Wm. Graham, and Misses Nellie Hurst and Callie Oney.

The choir sang "Peace, be still," and convention adjourned for "dinner on the ground."

Afternoon roll of schools was called and delegates from six Sunday schools were enrolled, viz: Swango chapel, Hazel Green; Elkins chapel, Lane (Holly); Sandfield Sunday school, Campton Sunday school, Lee City Sunday school and Vortex Sunday school.

In the time allotted to young ladies, Miss Nettie Wheeler recited the beautiful little poem "Search the Scriptures," and Miss Mollie Swango impressively read an essay on "The Kingdom of the Heartstone," after which the entire audience joined in singing "All hail the power of Jesus' name."

"Function of the Sunday school" was brought out by H. E. Oney in that earnest, characteristic style, which characterizes Edward in all his work. He said the Sunday school is the school of the church and the bible is the text book of this school; that all the children should be in the Sunday school and the gray haired children should be there too.

The choir sang "Beautiful Home." "Preparation of the Sunday school lesson" was the subject on which C. T. Byrd gave some valuable hints to teachers, saying that they could not teach what they did not know and that they should thoroughly understand the lesson of each day. He spoke in favor of more literature.

J. W. Taulbee on "Need of money and how to raise it," said, "It is needed for help, literature generally, bibles, etc., and we must go down into our pockets. Do without some of the unnecessary things here in this world and spend it for the development of the minds and souls of the children that they may be fitted for heaven."

On the same subject A. H. Stamper said the way to raise money was to agitate, discuss, action—result, money. The subject must be urged upon the people. Educate the church to give liberally to the cause of Sunday schools and other work of our Lord's.

Bro. Wm. Graham took "Teachers' pastoral work" and spoke along the line of union work in Sunday schools and try to get people to see the importance of attending Sunday schools.

In the time given to young men, Arthur Brooks and G. B. Stamper gave nice, appropriate talks.

Rev. Wm. Tyler was called out on "Teachers' pastoral work" and gave an enthusiastic talk, full of the spirit. Said the pastor could not do his duty in the Sunday school without the Holy Ghost upon him, and that that Sunday school was not a success without Holy Ghost and love of God shed abroad in the hearts of superintendents, teachers and people.

The committee on nominations then reported, which report was adopted, and resulted in the election of H. H. Swango, president; George W. Robinson, vice-president; Ida Swango, secretary; Mattie C. Quicksall, treasurer, and Lee City the place and first Saturday in September, 1898, as the time, if the president approves, of holding the next county convention.

Committee on resolutions reported, and report adopted, as follows:

RESOLUTIONS.
Resolved, That our hearty thanks be extended to the good citizens for the kindness and hospitality shown the members of our union during the convention.

2. That we extend our thanks to our efficient county president and secretary for their able, competent and efficient management of the Sunday school work in the county, and the interest which they have aroused among the Sunday schools of the county generally.

3. That we extend to the choir our thanks for the excellent music which they have furnished the convention during its exercises.

4. That we recommend a more extended use of the bible in Sunday schools.

5. That we recommend a more thorough preparation of the teachers and superintendents for their various duties in the Sunday schools; that they study to know their duties, and to familiarize themselves with the lessons to be taught, and the best manner of imparting instruction.

6. That we extend our thanks to each of the participants in the exercises of the day for their promptness in performing the various duties assigned them.

7. That we recommend that each Sunday school of the county be more prompt in appointing and sending delegates to the county Sunday school convention.

8. That the proceedings of this convention, together with these resolutions, be published in the HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

The minutes were read, and the closing address was delivered by Benj. Sewell.

Audience sang "God be with you till we meet again," which closed the best Sunday school convention Wolfe ever had.

Let us work up every interest of the Sunday school, and have every school in the county represented next year, with good reports and some money from each school for state work.

The Way to Win Success

In anything is to keep everlastingly at it. This is true whether you want to Reach the People Who Buy Goods

Through an advertisement, or to earn a living in some other way. People need to see each other a great many times before forming friendships, and it is much the same with advertisers and their readers. It is

Not by Fitful Advertising

That an immense business is built up. This paper has readers who read other papers, perhaps, but seeing your ad. in the Hazel Green Herald

Will give its readers confidence in you. More confidence means more business. This paper has readers, too, who read no other. They may not now trade with you, but are almost sure to do so, if you are a constant advertiser in THE HERALD. Any business man who has laid the foundation of business success by advertising in this

Or Any Other Newspaper,

Knows that he did it, not by occasionally inserting an ad. and then waiting to see what happened.

But By Keeping Everlastingly At It.

Do not say that people don't read advertisements—you have read this one.

Worth Being Well.

There was a lady living in a large southern city who had a beautiful garden. The garden had been neglected. Weeds had grown up in the grass, and wild tangles of growth had spoiled the fine beds of flowers.

The lady called in two poor boys, and, showing them the lawn, said:

"I want you to pull up every weed by the roots and carry it away, so that nothing but the fine grass shall be left to grow here."

All day long the two boys worked together, and when night came the lady was summoned to see the work they had done. She walked across the lawn and found that part of the work had been well done and part badly.

"How is this?" she said to the boys; "how is it that you have left weeds here and there, and I particularly told you that every weed must be removed; that no matter how long it took you, you must do the work thoroughly as far as you went?"

Then both boys looked ashamed, and Edward answered:

"I thought that we had done the work well—so much of it," pointing to the side where they had worked.

"Whose fault is it? Who left the weeds?" questioned the lady.

But neither boy answered and the lady said:

"Tomorrow when you come to work, Edward shall work on the right side of the house and Harry on the left."

The next night the lady was summoned again to inspect the work. On the right of the house the work was perfectly done, not a weed could be seen; on the left many weeds had been removed, but still they could be seen here and there in the grass.

The lady gave Harry his money and said:

"Your work is only half done; I shall not need you any more."

To Edward she spoke words of praise for work well done.

"Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well. You have been faithful in this work, and I have more for you to do."

So she put him in charge of her garden, and all summer he worked in his patient, faithful way, and the garden became orderly and beautiful again.

When Harry and Edward grew to manhood they worked in the same fashion. Harry went from place to place, doing nothing well, and tolerated by his employers only until they could find another to take his place.

Edward worked earnestly and honestly. Nothing that he undertook was too small to be worth doing well. His employers soon found out his character, and he was promoted from place to place until today he is a successful man, at the head of his profession, honored by his fellow citizens.

Dear children, remember that whatever you do should be well done, not only for the sake of the work itself, but that you may acquire the habit of doing things well. There are plenty of openings for the boy or girl who does thorough work. To do work carefully and well even to the smallest detail means success and appreciation—Cousin Constance, in Home and Farm.

Republican Meeting.

Pursuant to the call of the Republican executive committee of the 23d judicial district of Kentucky, for the purpose of selecting and instructing delegates to attend the county convention which is to be held at Campton on July 15, 1897, the Republicans of Hazel Green district (No. 2), of Wolfe county, met at Hazel Green July 10, 1897.

John H. Rose, district chairman, called the house to order and explained the object of the meeting, and on motion he was elected permanent chairman, and W. T. Caskey made secretary.

The following delegates were then selected: Dr. A. C. Nickell, W. T. Whaley, W. H. Wilson and W. T. Caskey.

The delegates were instructed to attend said county convention and to cast the vote of this district for Hon. H. L. Wheeler for circuit judge, and Hon. R. A. Hurst for commonwealth attorney, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination for said offices.

JOHN H. ROSE, Chairman.

It Still Lives.

During the last presidential campaign a Bryan pole nearly 200 feet high was raised at Sanders, a small village on the L. & N. railroad in Carroll county. The pole proper is a tall cypress reaching a height of probably 150 feet. It is about two feet in diameter at the base and tapers to about half that diameter at the top, where the flag staff is applied on. It sets ten feet in the ground and is as straight as an arrow. Several weeks before being brought to Sanders it was cut in Indiana where it was squared at both ends and stripped of its bark. The "raising" did not take place for some time after the arrival of the pole at Sanders, so it was pretty well seasoned when it was planted. There was an immense crowd present at the raising, and the air resounded with shout after shout as the monster was slowly but surely hoisted from a horizontal to a perpendicular position with a rooster at the apex and the stars and stripes floating from the mast-head. Bob Ellis, who is postmaster and general boss of the town, also one of the best fellows alive, was master of ceremonies, and performed his part to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The cause of Bryan was defeated at the November election, but the pole was allowed to stand, and there it stands today a living testimonial to the everlasting life of the cause in which it was raised. Early in the spring the pole began to put forth shoots and now it is almost covered from bottom to top with a rich green foliage in which the birds sing and build their nests. This is taken as a good omen by the Democrats, but is treated lightly by the gold bugs, one of whom ventured to twit Mr. Ellis about the "old tin rooster" at the top of the pole. Bob was equal to the occasion and shut the g. b. up with the information that the "rooster" was all right, crowed every night and morning, and laid an egg every day." This, of course, was a bit of pleasantry on the part of Mr. Ellis, but the balance of the story is vouched for by hundreds who have seen the pole since it began to grow.—Winchester Sun.

Moonshine Raid.

A Beattyville special of the 9th inst. to the Louisville Dispatch says:

Revenue Agent S. W. Collyer, assisted by United States Marshal George Drake and Joe Johnson, the L. & E. railroad detective, together with four others, made a raid on moonshiners near Ross' creek, in this county, last night, and after a desperate struggle succeeded in arresting and bringing to this place four men—Jack Reese, John and Bill Botner and Joe McQueen. The officers passed through this place early yesterday afternoon and it was evident from their actions that they were out for game. An account from one of the officers is that they landed at the distillery about 1 a. m., but owing to the roughness of the country it was very difficult to approach. Drake with an assistant crawled a distance of three hundred yards. On reaching the still he found one of the men punching the fire and two of them on guard. He was almost in the act of laying his hand on the offender of the law when he turned and gave Drake a lick on the face with a red hot burning stick. Drake was almost blinded by the fire and smoke, and scraping the burning skin from his face with one hand fired with the other with his pistol against the breast of his antagonist. Thinking he had killed him, he turned his attention to the others. By this time the other officers were upon the scene and just as the moonshiners were about to shoot the life out of George Drake they were covered with pistols and surrendered. They were brought here today and will be tried tomorrow by United States Commissioner James Marcum, at Jackson, Ky.

It is often said that the law is not made for honest men, but it must be borne in mind that much wrong is done in life for want of proper thought. This is often true of men concerning their small accounts. Particularly is it applicable to accounts due a newspaper. Gentlemen sometimes forget what would be accounted fair dealing in ordinary transactions, and perpetuate wrongs upon a newspaper entirely out of harmony with their general character for right living.

The cry now is, come over and help me in my corn.

Born, to the wife of Miles Caskey, a bouncing boy.

J. R. DeBusk has retired from the firm of J. R. DeBusk & Co., and W. H. DeBusk will probably take his place soon.

Joshua DeBusk and Jephtha Halsey have about 70 yearling steers they expect to dispose of soon. This is good for two mountain farmers.

The family of Uncle Wiley Wilson have had a severe siege of sickness for the last few months, and up to this time his wife and youngest son remain very low.

The wife of H. F. Oldfield is dangerously ill with fever at the home of her father, Logan Murphy, and her sister, Susan Holland, is at the same place down with the same disease.

A man by the name of Wilson passed through the Jamba a few days ago representing himself as one hunting clocks and sewing machines for repair, but when he opened his chest of tools we saw nothing but a screw driver and a rat tail file. A tramp would be a better name, if appearance speaks for anything.

The funeral of Aunt Rebecca Caskey was preached by Eld. Harry Little. The services were well attended by all the friends and relatives of the deceased. We learn the text for the occasion had been selected for some years by the old sister, "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith."

The work on the church at Old Grassy is progressing nicely. We recently heard that the dedicatory sermon will not be preached on the third Sunday in this month, but on the first Sunday in September. We believe this to be right. It will be a more convenient time, and when Bro. Cord comes down the good sisters will have dinner prepared, and all spend the day in and about the house of the Lord. Be it so.

It has been thought for some time that somewhere near Mize there was a moonshine still in operation. On last Monday morning U. S. Deputy Marshal Carr and a number of men came dashing in and went directly to the spot, overturned the beer and backed up the still before you could say Robinson. Good; if there are others in the county, we hope to hear of their going the same road. Strange to think some men who style themselves good honest citizens will suffer such to be carried on, and have corn destroyed in such a way, when poor people are almost suffering for corn and can not buy it for love or money.

Our Consolation correspondent made mention of some one stealing a saddle from the Caskey school house, and that "with so much preaching we ought to have fewer Esau's." Now, my dear sir, do you know the objections which you have filed rather corroborate with some of the preaching we have heard of at that place. They preach that the Lord sends them things now and then. We heard of one of their brethren down in Powell who went into the pasture of a neighbor and commenced bridling his horse. Being asked by the neighbor, who happened to pass by, what he intended to do, he replied that the Lord had told him to come there and get a horse. But the neighbor doubted his veracity and told him to get out of his field or he would kill him. Two little boys caught a rabbit, dressed it nicely and slipped and laid it on the door step of one of the testifying brethren, and next day in this meeting he arose and told that the Lord sent him a rabbit for breakfast. The little boys laughed, for the trick worked. Another said the Lord sent him a hog, but a neighbor proved to be the rightful owner. When they get sick, they claim the Lord heals them from all bodily ailments. They have discarded the use of medicines, coffee and tobacco, and claim a second work of grace. They testify and tell of the Divine healing, but as yet only one case has come up within our midst. One was possessed with a devil. A great commotion ensued. The brethren gathered, consulted and concluded that their faith was sufficiently strong. So they all prayed loud and long, until he at last departed, but not like he did in the apostolic time into a herd of swine, but into the mouths of those praying, for one remarked that he could taste him and that he was not very palatable. Now, sir, what think you? Next time explain yourself more fully, lest the people become deluded. You must remember that you are stepping down on the Jamba, and we are going to defend them if it takes dynamite to do it.

Mrs. Amanda Wilson, who has been sick for several weeks, is able to be about. Her son, Chad Green, who has also been very low, is slowly convalescing.

Quite a large crowd attended the foot washing at Salem Sunday. Among those from a distance we noted Noah Cisco, White Oak; Willie Barker and Haney, Grassy creek; Mrs. F. N. Messrs Robert Combs and Charley Lyons, of Frenchburg, were in town Saturday and Sunday. There seems to be an attraction here for the boys.

Mrs. Fenton and Mrs. Kennedy, in company with their mother, Mrs. W. W. Manker are visiting this week their brother, Wm. Manker, of West Liberty.

16 to 1, of West Liberty, was with us a few days ago. He was selling our merchants groceries and—well, you have heard of the killing of two birds with one stone.

James Byrd came very near being made a cripple for life last Saturday by falling through a bridge between Jordan Wills and town, and still nothing is done on the bridge or road. The roads are fearful almost everywhere. Charley Gosney, of your county, says he has not been warned to work the road in seven years. The fault is not in the masses, they are waiting to be called out by the road overseer. How long, oh, how long will this state of affairs continue. One or two more years without work on the roads will block this county from wagon travel.

Do you want to secure any of the fair privileges? If you do, now is the time to make your arrangements before it is too late. Call on or address N. L. Ware, secretary, for full particulars.

Topics for sermons at the Christian church Sunday are "The Lord's Prayer—a Study," at 11 a. m., and "Jesus the Good Shepherd," at 8:30 p. m. Everybody is welcome to attend one or both services.

A bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey should be on the medicine shelf of every home. In a sudden attack of croup it is invaluable; allaying the irritation and ending the danger in less time than it would take to go for the doctor. It stands pre-eminent as a remedy for coughs, colds and all kindred diseases.

Quite a crowd from this place attended the "footwashing" at Salem on last Sunday and all report a large attendance. Among those who went are Harrison Wilson and family, Mrs. F. N. Day, Misses Laura Wilson, Rilda Horton, Minnie Day, Lula Kash, Biddie Lee, and Justin Phipps, and Messrs. Ova Swango, E. O. Taulbee, J. Morton Pieratt, Samuel Hounshell and Samuel H. Wilson.

Music at Hazel Green Academy.

To our patrons and friends we want to say that Miss Ingels, who has been our teacher of music for some time past, will not be with us the next session, but we will have an excellent teacher for this work. We promise even more for this department for the future than we have had in the past, and ask all who are thinking of taking lessons, either instrumental or vocal, together with voice culture, to be ready to begin at the opening of the session, September 1. We will also arrange for chorus classes and sight singing which will enable any one who may desire, to learn something of vocal music. The work we shall do along these lines will be thorough and will render satisfaction. The cost for lessons will be very reasonable, and as low as possible for the instruction given.

Dr. E. E. Bartram, the dentist, is now at the Day House, where he can be found at any time ready and willing to extract your teeth without pain. The doctor has had a number of years experience in all kinds of dental work, besides being a graduate of one of the best dental colleges in the United States. He has a full supply of all tools needed in his profession, and guarantees satisfaction in all his work. Should you desire to have an aching and decayed tooth filled he can do so. If you want a set of teeth made, he will accommodate you. His charges are as reasonable as any, and it will be a pleasure to you to have him take out your old snags and be fitted with a new set.

Mrs. Fanny Prater, wife of Eli Prater, on Caney, while visiting Major W. H. Taulbee last Sunday morning, had the misfortune to fall and break her left leg just below the knee. Drs. Taulbee and Nickell were called and set the broken limb, and left the patient resting easy. Mrs. Prater is quite an old lady, a sister of John Wilson and mother of Bill, John and Jim Prater.

J. T. Day returned from Cincinnati and Louisville last Friday, where he had been buying goods and soliciting advertising for the fair catalogue. He met with much success, and also succeeded in getting a lot of new subscribers to THE HERALD, for which he has our thanks.

All persons desiring space in the fair catalogue should at once confer with N. L. Ware, secretary, as the time is short and the catalogues will soon be printed. Remember the dates—September 7, 8, 9 and 10.

Sam Hounshell and Miss Biddie Lee, of Hazel Green, passed through this place Sunday going to the "foot washing" on Grassy, and we understand that Miss Biddie will soon move to White Oak. Don't let her go, Sam.

John W. Taulbee has been granted a state teachers' certificate. I suppose we can call him "professor" now. He seems to be the happiest man in town. May it be a long time before it can be said of John, "He never smiled again."

Sam Wilson, the painter and ready writer of poetry for THE HERALD, passed through Daysboro Sunday in company with a blushing beauty, Miss Justine Phipps.

"Define her charms? As well define The rare aroma of old wine; Or pluck with cold botanic art The leaves that form a rose apart."

May her sweet example of love and devotion abide till time shall dissolve in the purpling tints of morning, "eternal in the heavens," is the wish of July 13. CHARLIE.

Of the seventeen counties in this, the Tenth congressional district, in only four counties, so far as heard from, were meetings held Saturday to send delegates to the gold convention at Louisville. The four counties are Montgomery, Clark, Powell and Wolfe. In this, Montgomery county, only 27 were present and in Wolfe only four. This indicates that there will be thick ice at the November election.—Sentinel Democrat.

For the first time in history a general census has been taken of the population of the Russian empire, which is shown to number 129,211,113, of which 64,616,280 are males and 64,394,833 females. It required 150,000 persons three months to complete the census, and is regarded as a great achievement considering the territory covered and the illiteracy of the population.

W. R. Hopkins, who has recently been in Cincinnati, has been engaged by J. T. Day, of Hazel Green, to manage his flour mill at that town. Mr. Hopkins left for his new home on last Saturday. His wife, who will spend a short time with friends in this city, will soon join him. We wish for him and Mr. Day much success.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

Siloam church, in Greenup county, was struck by lightning recently and completely wrecked.

Officers are digging for a buried treasure in Cuyington. They won't tell what they are searching for.

Two horses were killed, and many persons shocked, during a thunder storm at a picnic in Greenup county the other day.

The corpse of a woman was excavated by some workmen at the electric power house in Henderson. The face was well preserved.

Dr. A. D. James, the new United States marshal, assumed his duties last week and one of his first acts was to appoint two negro deputies.

Some sneak thief entered the business office of the Murray Ledger during the absence of the editor and robbed the safe of a small amount of money.

Dan Curry, who shot and killed John Corley, at Corbin June 24, was held without bail at his examining trial and placed in Williamsburg jail.

Governor Bradley, after taking a month's vacation in the mountains of Colorado, has returned to Frankfort, minus his whiskers, and resumed his duties.

In the case of John Dugan for murdering John C. Colson, at Middlesboro, a few months since, the grand jury returned an indictment charging Dugan with willful murder.

During the month of June, Acting Governor Worthington granted 34 pardons, five for murder, twelve for manslaughter and seventeen for other offenses. He restored forty-seven to citizenship.

Near Hillsboro, the 10-year-old son of J. B. Day fell from a mulberry tree and struck on a snag, which cut a long gash in his side, exposing the lungs. The wound is serious, but the little fellow may recover.

While a circus bear was being led through the streets of Corbin, a 10-year-old boy was attacked and a large piece of flesh torn from his leg by the bear. Damage suit and attachment against the circus proprietors were instituted.

At Owenton in the suit of J. W. Brumback against John Williams, his father-in-law, for $10,000 the jury returned a verdict for the defendant. Brumback charged Williams with taking his wife, Williams' daughter, and a child away from him.

A queer lawsuit is on hand in Mercer county. A farmer was greatly annoyed by a roughish horse belonging to a neighbor and one day recently he caught the animal and hitched it to a tree, a bolt of lightning struck the tree and killed the horse and the owner is suing for its value.

The Humane society of Lexington has been buying worthless cur dogs, drugging them with chloroform, and burying them in an open field. Three of them had only been put partially asleep and when they woke up dug their way out and were knocked in the head with a club by the grave digger.

The largest wheat grower in Trigg county is Mr. J. J. Gaines, of Montgomery, says the Telephone. He had in 400 acres, and used 726 pounds of twine, ran four binders, and saved it all in fine condition. It is the largest crop ever raised by one man in the country, and reasonably estimated at 12,000 bushels.

The fourth of July picnic at Clay City was celebrated with a killing in which Herbert M. Brown, a Stanton attorney, was shot by Officer Francis Blythe. The trouble arose over the arrest of William Hardwick, whom Blythe had arrested for creating a disturbance and whom Brown tried to take from the officer.

An unknown man was overcome with the heat in Covington and died in the lock up. The patrol wagon was summoned and proceeded with him to the hospital, but on the way he became violent and those in charge took him to the police station, where he was locked up as drunk and disorderly. The unfortunate man had not been long behind the bars before he died.

A strange phenomenon occurred at Berry, during a recent storm. Something was heard to fall heavily on the house of a citizen, which on investigation proved to be a large turtle that had fallen from the clouds. It was cleaned and cooked, and those who partook of the dish pronounced it excellent. This is no fish story, as it was told to us by a preacher.—Corinth Independent.

N. S. Ray went fishing last week and instead of catching any fish and giving in a fish story when he got back, he unbosomed himself of a story quite as startling as any fish story. He says that Marion Vanderpool and wife, living about ten miles from here, are the parents of twenty-six children, the youngest being about five years old. The couple are about 50 years and have been married 31 years, and the wife has never given birth to twins, triplets, quartets or quintets. Most of the children are living.—Corbin News.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
 2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
 3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
 4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
 5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
 6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
 7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
 8. Because it produces no bad results.
 9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
 10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

Those young fellows who stand in front of the postoffice to show their shape and those who stand sneaking near the church door or school house door to sport o' catch a glimpse or catch on as you start for home are not the ones you should marry. They will do for you to ruin yourself with or to split your reputation on, but boys who have the stuff in them that makes moral lovers and deserving husbands don't do things that way. If you should have no higher aim than rubbing hair oil marks from the best dress you wear or doing double work in after years for your board, be scarce with outdoor waiters. The young man who catches his girl outdoors generally leaves her there when he is through with his little game. The young man who expects to have a home always goes in the house and does the manly sensible thing and you will be better off to remember it.—Winchester Democrat.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by J. T. Day.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full postoffice address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

To make sawing with crosscut saw easier and more speedy for one man alone, without removing the handles, take a flexible pole about 1 inch in diameter and about 14 inches longer than the saw, split the ends a little, then by bending the pole slip the ends on the saw against the handles. This bow keeps the saw steady and you can handle it like a buck saw. I fix my saw thus and it is a splendid device. The other end does not flop about as it does without. I tie strings around the ends of the pole, about three inches back from ends to keep it from splitting to far back.—A. I. Mow, in Practical Farmer.

Work for Boys and Girls.

Our hustling young readers should write at once to the publishers of Pennsylvania Grit for an agency for the paper. Besides the regular commission on each paper sold, prizes of watches, books, jewelry, typewriters, cameras, etc., are given for extra work. Grit is a big, clean, illustrated, family newspaper, read and enjoyed by a half million people each week. A postal card addressed Grit Publishing Company, Williamsport, Pa., will bring full particulars and a catalogue of prizes. Grit is a welcome visitor to this office.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by J. T. Day.

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McLREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."

Packed Without Glass. TEN FOR FIVE CENTS.

This special form of Ripans Tablets is prepared from the original prescription, but more economically put up for the purpose of meeting the universal demand for a low price. It cures all stomach troubles; banishes pain; induces sleep; prolongs life. An invaluable tonic. Best Spring Medicine. No matter what the matter, one will do you good. One gives relief—a cure will result if directions are followed. The five-cent packages are not yet to be had of all dealers, although it is probable that almost any druggist will obtain a supply when requested by a customer to do so; but in any case a single carton, containing ten tablets, will be sent, postage paid, to any address for five cents in stamps, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 11 Spruce St., New York. Until the goods are thoroughly introduced, the trade, agents and peddlers will be supplied at a price which will allow them a fair margin of profit, viz.: 1 dozen cartons for $4.00—12 more for $3.00—24 more for $2.00—48 more for $1.00—96 more for 50c.
